

This Is 'Key' Evidence In Hauptmann Case

The letter from which the state contends Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr. fell to his death was the center of a bitter battle that ended at the Hauptmann trial, as the defense sought to exclude it from admission as evidence. Shown here as it was brought in sections into court, the letter drew the comment from Hauptmann, "If I made that letter, I'd be a second-rate carpenter."

MacMillan Fund Must Be Raised Quickly By Public Interest

"Surely no court outside of Alberta would hold that a young girl who made the victim of a seduction, suffered no harm so long as she does not lose time away from her work. That judgment which safeguards a male seducer must be appealed. If the parties are not able to pay for a further appeal, then it is up to the public."

Affects Womanhood

In the present decision, none of the five judges interfered with the finding of the jury that seduction had taken place. Two of them held that the seduction itself was injury enough to justify the jury award of financial damages. Three of them held that seduction without pregnancy is not an injury to a girl of a nature that enables her to claim damages under the Seduction act. Until that majority judgment was successfully appealed, it affects not only the plaintiff in the McMillan Brown case, but every other girl in the province of Alberta, who may fall a victim to the seduction of a seducer.

NO FAULT OF THE CITIES

Agitators or alleged agitators are being sent out of the two cities in support and returned to the places where they were educated. A party of these returned men arrived in Edmonton last week. They are being sent to Calgary, and the council of the southern city promptly decided to inform the Provincial and Dominion Governments the city denies any responsibility for the agitators.

As in Edmonton, the Calgary council made plain that the men will not be allowed to suffer again. But the city council is not so plain and that, having undertaken to look after these single men, it is up to them to make good the undertaking.

REPUTATION

The U.F.A. convention at Corcoran refused to re-nominate the present member for the riding. Hon. G. N. Johnston, Speaker of the Legislature, and the U.F.A. members of the Legislature, all agreed to the decision. It was an "almost unanimous vote" chose another nominee as their candidate in the coming general provincial elections.

That a private member of the legislative body should fail to secure re-nomination in his constituency is nothing new, and sometimes causes nothing of great importance. But it is different when his supporters formally withdraw their support from a member chosen by the Government to be the presiding officer of its assembly, and refuse to endorse him as its candidate for re-election.

In only one other case can a party convention more directly go to the heart of the want of confidence in the ministry, by refusing to accept the candidature of a cabinet minister in the next election. In the case of the Speaker, the party organization in Corcoran will thus be interpreted as repudiation of the Government he represents.

Mr. Johnston is personally as popular among his constituents as he is among the members of the legislature, the result administered to the Government is all the more severe. For if a popular Speaker cannot get re-nomination from his supporters, despite the fact that in which he has been chosen by the Government must be from falling.

CHARITY BEGINS AT HOME

Mr. D. M. Duggan, M.A., who has evidently looked up the figure, says 400 Alberta school districts had defaulted interest payments at the end of 1933, while on that date 2000 teachers had not been paid their salaries in full, the amount thus owing being then $318,000.

A deplorable and ridiculous state of affairs undoubtedly, called for immediate action from the Provincial Government. But how could a Government which has done nothing to pay interest on its debts, and borrows money to pay interest on its debts, be supposed to remedy itself in the refunding needs of school districts?

And how can a member of the legislature who helped vote the Government's refusal to refund its own debts, blame the Government for doing nothing to refund school district debts? In the language of the Central Gazette, the thing "does" no good at all.

NEW RECORD LONG JUMP

Alberta's U.F.A. members of parliament, along with their constituents in the provinces, have staged a grand exhibition of political acrobatics in jumping from one extreme to the other on the money question.

The Passing Show

By J. S. COUPER

We've often heard of "the long arm of the law." In the past few weeks in Alberta we have had some examples of the dead hand of the law.

Alberta was not born till the year 1903, yet within the past week we've seen a provincial statute, presumably passed for the protection of young girls from seduction, interpreted in the terms of a staid, stolid, and stolid before the North West Territories were known. Our Seduction Act it is to be interpreted by the same principles that were used in the interpretation of the Seduction Act passed in the reign of William IV.

This isn't an isolated instance of how hoary precedents emerge from the darkness of the past to govern the life of today. Not long ago in western Canada I heard a Supreme Court judge in appeal from a conviction under the Lord's Day Act. A guilty verdict had been returned by a jury on a Sunday to a stool-pig, believing the man's lie that he was hungry and needed bread. The conviction was based on a repealed statute passed in the time of Charles II.

Now the "Merry Monarch," now freed by death and shivering from the embraces of his guilty mistress, is now being used to lead hundreds of years after he had become fertilizer, a grocer in the New World would be found guilty of lying broad on the Sabbath under one of his statutes.

There is a rumor that Premier Davis of British Columbia will be appointed to the bench of that province. The minister of the interior has withdrawn a quantity of Manitoba land from settlement, for public purposes.

Gonzales de Quenda, leader of the Cuban revolutionaries, says there will be a successful revolution in that island within six months. Van Horne has returned from Europe. There are rumors of his intention to resign. He says the company is in no financial trouble. The parliament is being asked to incorporate the Bank of Montreal.

More About Neuroses

By DOCTOR FRANK MCCOY

A neurosis represents an internal struggle and the patient struggles to adjust himself to circumstances. The effort and energy wasted in the conflict are sufficient, if rightly used, to win for him almost anything he desires. He may not have the things he wants, but he can get them. The neurotic is not satisfied by the day's work; he wants something more; he has within him a drive or unrest which keeps pushing him on. The neurotic thing to do is to take this extra drive and do something with it.

One of the outstanding discoveries of modern psychology is the fact that neuroses can be cured by a patient's own efforts. The neurotic is not satisfied by the day's work; he wants something more; he has within him a drive or unrest which keeps pushing him on. The neurotic thing to do is to take this extra drive and do something with it.

One of the common neuroses is called the anxiety neurosis; the patient is anxious, a feeling of doom or dread hangs over him, and he is unable to achieve and move. He is a victim of the neurotic thing to do is to take this extra drive and do something with it.

On This Day

By FRED WILLIAMS

On this day in 1792 Lieutenant-Colonel John Graves Simcoe at Quebec issued his first proclamation in Canada. It was addressed to "the people who desire to settle on the lands of the Crown in Upper Canada."

As a matter of fact the proclamation was unconditional and without legal effect, because Simcoe had been a lieutenant-governor of the Province of Upper Canada and was not so even until July 10 following, when he took the oath of King's Counsel and lieutenant-governor.

A similar proclamation was issued on the same day to the people of Lower Canada by General Alured Clarke, lieutenant-governor of Lower Canada, and as yet there could be no doubt since he had been sworn in as lieutenant-governor.

The terms of Simcoe's "proclamation" set forth the conditions to which land-seekers must conform, and it was expressly stipulated that all grants would be issued subject to the crown's land, commonly called crown land, and mines of gold, silver, copper, iron and lead, and each patent was to contain a clause reserving for the crown the right of pre-emption.

Provision was made for the clergy reserves (see of much trouble later), and it was provided that such lands were to be undivided "between the farms" and of equal quality. The child born on February 8, when it has passed from infancy to youth, should blossom into a gracious, sweet, lovable character. If a man, and February 8 is your natal day, you will probably succeed in a profession or business, where original idea can be developed and put into practice.

On February 8 be careful you do not buy "a cat in a bag" by trusting someone else to select something you wish to purchase, unless you have complete confidence in his judgment, as well as good taste. Married couples, as well as those ready to plight their hearts and hand, will display discretion if they refrain from making any rash decisions regarding personal habits or wearing apparel.

If a woman, and February 8 is your birthday, the sooner you make up your mind to cheerfully regard what may now seem a burdensome task, as a labor of love, well worth your time and energy, the happier you will be, and the easier your work will be. Marriage should be the medium of a great deal of happiness for you.

To be greeted by a sympathetic premier and cabinet and told, in one case, that the legislation desired has already been drafted, and in others that action is being taken with a view to remedying distressing situations, was the experience of the delegation of the Provincial Council of Women, which was granted a hearing in the legislative chambers at the Parliament buildings Tuesday afternoon. Headed by Mrs. Hazel W. Bloor, of Calcutta, provincial president, as the spokesman, a group of women representing the majority of the province's larger women's organizations, was in attendance. Mrs. R. Marshall, provincial president of the I. Assurance that steps are now being taken in co-operation with the Medical Society to investigate the feasibility of medical certificates before marriage, was given. No action will be taken to limit liquor advertising at present, and further teaching of scientific temperance in schools will be given by the minister of education when the course of studies is being formed. Consideration was also assured to request that women be included on criminal juries, and that women magistrates would be appointed in Calgary and Edmonton when circumstances permitted. The "clean literature" resolution was dealt with and it was pointed out that this matter is being investigated and will be gone into this session. Playing of the National Anthem after

New York city is ready to offer an argument to Toronto, Montreal, Hamilton or Winnipeg as the centre of amateur hockey activity on the continent.

The last four Sunday afternoon amateur matches in New York—the Sun-Pure are tabo on week-days as Madison Square Garden is booked for professional hockey and other activities—has been a complete sell-out.

For 18 games, the complete amateur schedule which includes college as well as eastern league pug-chasing, the patrons who had to see the boys who play for the fun of it numbered more than 10,000.

It is expected the total paid admissions will run well over 20,000 by the time the season ends, as the balance of the program is studded with "natural" and play-off matches.

Tom Lockhart, United States Amateur Athletic Union official who supervises the sport operations was sought out for an explanation of the increase in interest.

Said he: "One winner is more than four losers in the season here, two more than four weeks time."

"Now the Brooklyn Hamilton-Crescents are the only one-time representatives in the Eastern League, and their increased play is reflected in the fact that the Hamilton-Crescents are the answer to our success."

Lockhart then pointed out that some of the players, particularly Murray Patrick, defenseman of Montreal, the Colville brothers, Neil and Mac, formerly of Edmonton and last season with the Edmonton Athletic Club's championship junior team, and Alex Shibley, ex-Winnipeggers, had won an unusually large and rapid following from all parts of the city.

"The supporters of these boys, especially when they come up against Hershey Bears, seem more feeling in their routing than any other professional game, even though the National League players are better than the amateurs."

Strengthening of the Crescents has been the result of the City and Hershey, other E. H. L. members, inside, as attendance is increased. There are only 133 members in the National League, and the United States boys players in the city, all others being Canadian-born.

There is also a lot of amateur play over the weekend when the Safeway-Canadians take on the Hamilton-Crescents in an exhibition game here. Canadian hockey is a very popular sport, and the Safeway-Canadians and they will be fighting hard to keep this record intact against the night-revived visitors Saturday at the rink.

Annual Meeting, Banquet

Wednesday Attracts

300 Enthusiasts

By BILL LEWIS

Taking an evening's respite from their interminable routine of curling, nearly 300 competitors currently participating in the eighth annual banquet of the Alberta Curling Association enjoyed themselves Wednesday night at the annual meeting and banquet of the Association held in the Hudsonia.

Enthusiasm and good-fellowship ran high through an evening that was given over largely to jolly, light banter and varied entertainment and great quantities of food valued among the 300 present from throughout the province.

Featuring the evening's program was the presentation of four life memberships to many of the men who have long aided the sport in the province. The four were presented to Sheriff John Ray, W. H. Sheppard, A. H. Dickins and J. C. Callahan, all of whom have been enthusiastic curling supporters for many years.

George McLaughlin, of Toriel, a competitor in Edmonton tonight, was also presented with a life membership. He was presented by Sheriff John Ray, W. H. Sheppard, A. H. Dickins and J. C. Callahan, all of whom have been enthusiastic curling supporters for many years.

Typical of honor for the affair was Mayor J. A. Clark, who delivered a typically sparkling speech that was well received by the audience. He also presented the life membership to the association of curling fund payments.

His Worship went even further, though. He told visiting curlers that he would possibly do any wrong while here and thereupon presented them the freedom of the city.

Another address that glittered with fine good humor was delivered by Rev. J. G. Goddard, of St. James.

Delmar Brad, president of the Alberta Curling Association, presided as chairman and toastmaster, while the evening's entertainment was given by the City and Hershey, other E. H. Poole, McLaughlin, Steele Score Win Without Setbacks

By BILL LEWIS

Sailing through six consecutive victories without a defeat, St. Paul, of Dayland, and George McLaughlin, of Tofield, set the pace in the Alberta Curling Association's eighth annual bonspiel here yesterday. Hard on their heels, however, came Jimmy Steele, of Strathcona, who had five straight triumphs to his credit without a defeat marked against him.

Out of a total of 10 links that had perfect records when play ended Tuesday, these were the only three that remained without a blemish against them.

Some of the most highly-rated quartets in the 'spiel that had yet to meet defeat, fell by the wayside as Wednesday's three draws went through.

STAND-OUT RINKS
SUFFER SETBACKS.
High-powered rink that met defeat were: Shore, of Edmonton, who had won five straight wins before meeting defeat; Manahan, of Royal, who had won five straight wins before meeting defeat; and Steele, of Strathcona, who had won five straight wins before meeting defeat.

Many outstanding battles were fought in the afternoon, looking for a highlight of the big curling net. Munro, however, was in unsteady form and marked up a 13-3 victory over the Edmonton club entry. This had him in grand fashion and some exceptionally fine curling was on view.

HALTS WIN STREAK
Shore forced into the limelight on the Wednesday morning draw with his fifth victory and then, having turned on his scheduled game with Munro in the afternoon, looking for a highlight of the big curling net. Munro, however, was in unsteady form and marked up a 13-3 victory over the Edmonton club entry. This had him in grand fashion and some exceptionally fine curling was on view.

One of the outstanding matches of the day was the one between Decaton tangled with Cliff Manahan in the Grand Challenge game, which the former won by a margin of 10-5. Spectators that crowded the Royal rink were so close to the action that the curlers had to be put on a pedestal that was worthy of any bonspiel fight. It was an exhibition of careful curling that could hardly have been improved upon.

The performance of George McLaughlin's aggregation from Tofield was perhaps the highlight of the night.

WINNING THREE GAMES IN A ROW
Tuesday, the Tofield crew celebrated their 40th birthday by winning three games in a row. They were defeated by the Hawks in the first game as well as at last night, while the Hawks suffered a second. Clayton and Burton for the Redskins turned in a more aggressive game than they have had in the past.

None of the noteworthy was the exhibition of grand curling by St. Paul's rink from Dayland, who also marked off with six consecutive victories. A member of that rink was another pair of victories Wednesday to leave him at the half-way mark without a beating charged against him. Poole's triumph yesterday was over Charlie Cairns and Bob Cairns.

BACKING THROUGH UNNOTED
In this way this city's lone representative among the undefeated rinks, this was the quiet pilotage by Jimmy Steele, of Strathcona, who had five wins to his credit against him when play closed yesterday. After scoring three victories Tuesday, Steele's rink was defeated by the Hawks in the first game as well as at last night, while the Hawks suffered a second. Clayton and Burton for the Redskins turned in a more aggressive game than they have had in the past.

With a fine record of eight triumphs and no defeats at stake, Coach "Lefty" Grove's Safeway-Canadians will be fighting hard to keep their local column clean when Saturday afternoon they meet the Saskatoon club at the Arena. Last night's triumph over the Edmonton Athletic Club ended the Canadians' regular schedule.

SAFETY-CARSAKES LEAD SCORING IN REFEED

Beat E.A.C. Team By Score Of 6-4 In Junior League

Eddie Shamlock and Eric Ward Are Big Scorers With Trio of Markers Each in 6-4 Win.

By JACK DEAN
A jubilant squad—happy as a result of their triumph record in the Junior Hockey League—Safety-Cars, one by one filed down the wooden walk to their dressing rooms at the Arena last night, undefeated in their 11-game schedule.

They were tired, puffed, their fighting energy well spent in a thrilling game, and, for the eighth time they emerged the winner. By virtue of their 6-4 victory over the E.A.C. they went through their season's schedule undefeated.

ONE MORE GAME IS LEFT IN SCHEDULE

Only one more game, that between South Side Juniors and Edmonton Athletic Club, is left in the regular Junior League schedule and will be played on Sunday afternoon.

Eight times the Canadians have been victorious, but they were seriously threatened, but by a great fighting spirit managed to split the net and by twice defeating with South Side and once with E.A.C. they are playing a game of confidence in the boys in orange and black and hope for the locals to triumph.

That record will be at stake Saturday when they meet Saskatchewan, but the boys are playing a game of confidence in the boys in orange and black and hope for the locals to triumph.

CANUCKS THREATENED

For two-thirds of the first period the Canucks were seriously threatened after they had taken a one goal lead in Eric Ward's marker. "Phat" Rimstad and Billy Smith were in on the marker, but it was the Canucks' crew, Rimstad started and finished the play, but he was smartly assisted by Smith on his raid down the ice. Rimstad was the scoring end of the equalizer with Smith getting an assist.

Five minutes later the Clubmen found the Canadian defence weakened as Ward took a 3-2 lead before the Canucks' crew, Rimstad started and finished the play, but he was smartly assisted by Smith on his raid down the ice. Rimstad was the scoring end of the equalizer with Smith getting an assist.

At full strength again Canadians put up a gallant fight and on goals by Shamlock and Ward took a 3-2 lead before the Canucks' crew, Rimstad started and finished the play, but he was smartly assisted by Smith on his raid down the ice. Rimstad was the scoring end of the equalizer with Smith getting an assist.

Eddie Shamlock entered himself into the full glare of the scoring spotlight in the seventh session as he drilled E.A.C. net in quick order for a brace of markers, while the best the hosts could do was

Boxers Prepared For Bouts Here On Friday Night

Norman Coffey
RAGS, ALL-AMERICA COLLEGIATE CHAMPION, FIGHTS BOSS IN CHAMPION.

Two of the four headline contenders for Friday night's professional boxing show at the Empire theatre were in training at gyms yesterday while the other half of the double main event arrived in Edmonton early this morning.

The card under the auspices of the Disabled Ex-Servicemen's Association, the first major boxing program staged here since Eddie French left town, is expected to be a worthy one to revive the great ring sport.

Featuring in one of the 10-round events will be the popular and clever Johnny Bostling, who has defeated Maurice Peltier of Vancouver, while in the other 10-round bout Tiger Fisher was booked to go over the other 10-round event. There has also been one fast getting into by Captain Charles Simmonds who is managing the card for the night.

DIVIDE DUTY
A June harvest Edmonton's leading gym would find at least half a dozen bouts performing on Friday night, the opening of their training drills with light work-outs, but will look to be in great shape for their weighing-in.

In the training sessions young Freddie Gordon kept working on his boxing, and with Bill Markov of Calgary should be a real go-getter, going into the ring following the curtain raise in which Jimmy Collins and Lee Smith, two holders should be "warmed up" for the action scheduled in the double main event.

Jimmy Collins in the curtain-raiser has also been doing a lot of serious training and he is tough opponent for Lee Smith. Collins has had several good bouts here and has never failed to please.

Garden Governors Warn Maxie Baer

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Max Baer may be allowed to fight 10-round bouts in New York now without involving his heavyweight title, but if he tries it for anyone else but Madison Square Garden they'll sit the law into him.

I don't care what the New York state athletic commission says," Jimmy Johnson barked Wednesday. "If Baer tries to fight here for anyone else, I'll have him up with legal documents like he was a fresh abolitionist. He's got a right to defend his title for up to 15 rounds in June."

Don't let somebody win a decision over him at 10 rounds, and no matter what the commission says that follow is the new world's heavyweight champion. No one is going to let a swifly like that on us without getting into a law suit."

SUB-MENTAL PUPILS ARE SCHOOL ISSUE

Trustees' Conference Told 300 Deficients in Class-Rooms

There are 300 mentally deficient children in the schools of Edmonton who should not be in ordinary schools at all. For children such as these, who remain in our schools until they are 18 years of age, there should be suitable schools provided, said A. C. Ottewill, member of the executive board of the Alberta School Trustees' Association at a dinner held in the Royal Hotel, Wednesday evening, by members of the Stettler School Inspectorate.

The meeting, which was held under the chairmanship of M. R. Hilder, Stettler, was attended by members of the inspectorate and specially invited guests.

EDUCATION ADVANCES

Speaking of the advances made in education, Mr. Ottewill stated that with the succeeding years the quality of the students entering the University improved. There was, he stated, no truth in reports that the young people of today were hoodlums.

"I am perturbed by the steady increase in mental deficiency in this country," said Mr. Ottewill. "Children coming under this category could be made economically self-sufficient by placing them in schools where they could get proper training instead of becoming as they are doing, social parasites."

The changes in the curriculum were important, stated the speaker, but the problem was one that would eventually give vastly more trouble if it did not receive more drastic attention.

H. Finckeworth, first vice-president and organizer of the Trustees' Association in 1926, outlined the steps taken in the organization and described the first trustees' convention held, during that year, that was, he stated, practically a wild west convention. Deliberate, he said, he found it necessary to sit up all night making up a constitution.

RAILWAYS ASK BUSINESS TAX CUT, VAINLY

Committee Recommends No Change Be Made

Charging the city business tax of 25 per cent on railways to be excessive and discriminatory, counsel for the C.P.R., C.N.R. and N.A.R. asked the city council committee Wednesday to consider a reduction in the rate. The committee recommended to council, however, that no change be made.

For business tax purposes, the city imposes a levy of 25 per cent of the total rental value of railway premises.

Presenting the case for the Canadian National Railways, P. W. Abbott, K.C., claimed the spread from six to 25 per cent on various business taxes was too great. In Saskatchewan and Ontario the tax was based on the mill rate. The Alberta Tax and Village Act of 1934 provided that the business tax should be uniform and should not exceed the mill rate.

RATE CHANGE HERE

Continuing Mr. Abbott said that in general practice the rate was uniform for all businesses. There was a wide range in Edmonton's rate, and a considerable part of the railways' business could come within the six per cent rate, which applied to retail shops and restaurants.

In his argument, Mr. Abbott declared that while the high levy on railways may have been justified at one time, conditions had changed and this business should be given a reduction.

D. W. Claperton, K.C., of Calgary, counsel for the Canadian Pacific and the Northern Alberta railways, said the business tax had first been set at 25 per cent in 1914 and a promise had been given by the city that this rate would be reduced within two years. Despite the fact that the railways had been paying the high tax for 16 years.

BUSINESS-DONE BASIS

Declaring there should be no discrimination as between various businesses as far as the rate was concerned, Mr. Claperton believed the amount of the tax should be based on the business done.

He said that the railways had been paying the high tax for 16 years. He said that the railways had been paying the high tax for 16 years.

ANNUAL VOTER LIST

Dealing with the proposed amendment submitted by Ald. A. Blissett to maintain the voter list every two years instead of every year, as at present, the committee decided to continue the existing law.

Explaining that any change in the policy would bring difficulties in the way of registration, the committee decided to continue the existing law.

Express Carriage Limits Extended

Signs of a new movement in the express carriage industry were noted in the city of Edmonton, where the limits of the association have been extended from 115 to 117 street.

The extension of the carriage limits will mean that residents of these districts will no longer receive mail from the express office, which is moving them to call for packages.

From February 15, 1935, on, express will be delivered to these districts free of charge, as is done in the case of the city of Edmonton.
